TRAVEL THE COUNTRY.

What is NCCC?

AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps (NCCC) is a full-time, teambased residential service program for young adults who want to give back to communities in need at different locations across the country. For 10 months, you'll work on 4-6 projects such as: engaging youth; building and rehabilitating homes for families in need; cleaning up parks, streams, trails, and shorelines; fighting and preventing wildfires; and helping communities recover from disasters. You'll be assigned to one of five campuses across the country.

What you will get out of the experience:

- The opportunity to travel across the country
- Valuable skills to enhance your resume—such as leadership and team building
- CPR, first aid, and disaster response training
- Room, board, healthcare, uniform, and equipment
- A living allowance of about $4,000
- The ability to defer qualified student loans
- A Segal AmeriCorps Education Award of at least $5,730 to help pay for college, graduate school, or pay back qualified student loans
- The satisfaction of helping communities and making our country a better place

My goal has always been to further my education and NCCC puts me one step closer to reaching that goal.

Make a difference when it matters most with FEMA Corps.

Are you interested in a career in emergency management? Want to leave your mark while learning new skills? FEMA Corps could be the perfect opportunity for you to get experience, while helping others. We are looking for men and women ages 18-24 to join our emergency management team.

What is FEMA Corps?

FEMA Corps is an NCCC track for young adults who want to gain professional skills in emergency management while serving with the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) staff on disaster response and recovery efforts. It is a 10 month, full-time, team-based residential service program that was developed in partnership with FEMA and the Corporation for National and Community Service, the agency that oversees AmeriCorps NCCC. As a member, you'll be assigned to one of five NCCC campuses. Your focus will solely be on emergency management and long-term recovery activities within FEMA. You'll provide administrative and logistical support in areas that include:

- ⦿ Educating communities, assessing needs, and collecting information.
- ⦿ Developing materials that promote disaster preparation to the public.
- ⦿ Ordering materials, tracking inventory, loading supplies, and managing IT equipment.
- ⦿ Updating electronic files, managing data, and compiling reports.
- ⦿ Working with nonprofits and government agencies to coordinate services for disaster survivors
- ⦿ Helping survivors complete applications for disaster assistance.
- ⦿ Assessing and reporting damage to public facilities.
- ⦿ Setting up shelter operations and re-unification of families and pets.

What are the benefits of joining?

You'll receive all of the same benefits as traditional AmeriCorps NCCC members, plus additional training and experience to prepare you for a career in emergency management and related fields. You'll learn about working with communities, public speaking, customer service, and office/management skills while giving back and positively impacting the lives of disaster survivors.

Talking with a survivor made all of our trainings seem real. FEMA Corps prepared me to work in disaster settings and with all of that newly acquired knowledge, I feel equipped and ready to get to work.
