Feedback for applicant

The applicant does not present any data on their program in the application to show that they have met their program objectives. While the application includes references from other sources supporting their program practices, insufficient information is provided about these studies to identify whether they align closely enough with the applicant's proposed program.

Rating Justification

The program's level of evidence is "no evidence". The applicant does not present any data on their program in the application to show that they have met their program objectives. While the application includes references from other sources supporting their program practices, insufficient information is provided about these studies to identify whether they align closely enough with the applicant's proposed program.
