Program HQ Location	Nonprofit Subgrantee Name Intermediary	Description
Birmingham, AL	University of Alabama at Birmingham AIDS United	Birmingham Access to Care (BA2C) is a collaborative effort between UAB 1917 Clinic and Birmingham AIDS Outreach (BAO). HIV primary care and social service providers have, for years, recognized the profound public health implications of the "lost to follow-up," or fallen out of care, population. Improving engagement in HIV care for PLWH not currently seeking primary care treatment may have other beneficial effects for the public health. Reductions in risk transmission behaviors among individuals linked to care and the beneficial effects of ART in reducing HIV viral load and transmissibility may result in decreased secondary cases of HIV infection if the program is successful in improving linkage, retention, and re-engagement in HIV care. BA2C has a team of 2 Licensed Board Social Workers, data programmers, and project supervisors to focus increasing re-engagement/linkage to HIV primary care among HIV-infected individuals lost to follow-up; obtaining information regarding individual-level facilitators and barriers to HIV primary care linkage; and increasing the proportion of individuals lost to follow-up annually retained in comprehensive and coordinated outpatient medical services.
