

Nonprofit Subgrantees in New Mexico

Program HQ Location	Nonprofit Subgrantee Name Intermediary	Description
Albuquerque, NM	Central New Mexico College AARP Foundation (2014)	Over the course of three years, Central New Mexico College plans on providing core services to 280 people with the goal of obtaining work for 120 people, which is the ultimate outcome to be achieved. Central New Mexico College serves the Albuquerque area.
Santa Fe, NM	Santa Fe Community College AARP Foundation (2014)	Over the course of three years, Santa Fe Community College plans on providing core services to 156 people with the goal of obtaining work for 63 people, which is the ultimate outcome to be achieved. Santa Fe Community College serves Santa Fe County and surrounding Native American Pueblos (Nambé, Picuris, Pojoaque, San Ildefonso San Juan, Santa Clara, Taos and Tesuque). Because New Mexico is a rural state, the college anticipates even more participants 45-50 miles from locations such as Taos.
Santa Fe, NM	State of New Mexico, Human Services Department Corporation for Supportive Housing (PFS)	The State of New Mexico is part of a cohort of state governments all interested in the use of the PFS model to provide persons residing in institutional settings with the opportunity to transition to community-based supportive housing. Specifically, this project will target residents of health care institutions who prefer to live in the community and people who are at-risk of institutionalization. Further, members of the target population will be adults with diagnosable mental, behavioral, or emotional disorders of sufficient duration to meet diagnostic criteria for Serious Mental Illness (SMI) and whose eligible diagnosis has resulted in functional impairment which substantially interferes with, or limits, one or more major life activities. The project will target the counties of Bernalillo, Santa Fe, and San Miguel.

Nonprofit Subgrantees in New Mexico

Program HQ Location	Nonprofit Subgrantee Name	Description
Santa Fe, NM	Intermediary State of New Mexico, Human Services Department Harvard Kennedy School Social Impact Bond Lab	Corporation for Supportive Housing (CSH) and the SIB Lab will collaborate to provide a joint cohort-based model of technical assistance. Subgrantees will receive government-focused expertise on SIB development, evaluation design, and SIB procurement from the SIB Lab and issue-specific expertise from CSH and its partners, the Center for Health Care Strategies and Third Sector Capital Partners, including expertise in the areas of Medicaid funding of institutional and community-based services and the creation and operation of high quality supportive housing including the design of service models best suited to meet the needs of the identified target population. New York State Department of Health Albany, NY The State of New York will be part of a cohort of state governments all interested in the use of the PFS model to provide persons residing in institutional settings with the opportunity to transition to community-based supportive housing. Corporation for Supportive Housing's work with New York State will focus on providing supportive housing to individuals who have spent at least one hundred and twenty consecutive days in a nursing home setting and who have the ability to live safely in the community. The geography is the State of New York including New York City. State of New Mexico Human Services Department Santa Fe, NM The State of New Mexico will be part of a cohort of state governments all interested in the use of the PFS model to provide persons residing in institutional settings with the opportunity to transition to community-based supportive housing. Specifically, this project will target residents of health care institutions who prefer to live in the community and people who are at-risk of institutionalization. Further, members of the target population will be adults with diagnosable mental, behavioral, or emotional disorders of sufficient duration to meet diagnostic criteria for Serious Mental Illness (SMI) and whose eligible diagnosis has resulted in functional impairment which substantially interferes with, or limits, one or more major life activities. The project will target the counties of Bernalillo, Santa Fe, and San Miguel. Washington State Health Care Authority Olympia, WA The State of Washington will be part of a cohort of state governments all interested in the use of the PFS model to provide persons residing in institutional settings with the opportunity to transition to community-based supportive housing. Washington's project will focus on providing supportive housing to residents of health care institutions who prefer to live in the community in order to ensure that Washingtonians with disabilities have an alternative to an institutional setting.